

St. Mary's Medical Center profiled in Story About Hurricane Preparations Done by Hospitals on WPBF Channel 25

July 24, 2011

WPBF Channel 25 featured a story on hurricane preparations done at local hospitals. St. Mary's Medical Center was profiled in this terrific piece that was done about what the hospital does to maintain the safety of its patients and staff. CNO Joey Bulfin and Patrick Edinger were both interviewed in the story and really did a great job explaining how the hospital functions should a hurricane come to Palm Beach County.
