ST. MARY'S MEDICAL CENTER WELCOMES PEDIATRIC ORTHOPEDIC ONCOLOGIST DR. DANIEL PRINCE TO ITS MEDICAL STAFF

Dr. Daniel Prince to bring specialized pediatric orthopedic cancer care to the local community

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (November 2011)- St. Mary's Medical Center is proud to announce that Dr. Daniel E. Prince, fellowship trained pediatric orthopedic oncologist, has joined the hospital's medical staff. Dr. Prince specializes in the treatment of bone and soft-tissue tumors that involve the musculoskeletal system. Dr. Prince will also collaborate with Dr. Dror Paley of the Paley Advanced Limb Lengthening Institute to provide a full range of comprehensive treatment services for children with a range of orthopedic diseases and conditions.

"St. Mary's welcomes Dr. Prince and we look forward to enhancing our pediatric oncology and orthopedic programs with Dr. Prince's extensive experience and highly specialized skills in treating children with orthopedic cancers and limb deformities," says Davide Carbone, St. Mary's Medical Center's chief executive officer.

Dr. Prince has an impressive educational background. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Notre Dame University, his M.D. and M.P.H. from Yale University and completed his orthopedic surgery residency at the New York Presbyterian Hospital at Columbia University Medical Center in New York, N.Y. In addition to completing a limb deformity reconstruction fellowship at the International Center for Limb Lengthening at the Rubin Institute for Advanced Orthopaedics at Sinai Hospital in Baltimore, Md., Dr. Prince also completed an orthopedic oncology fellowship at Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York, NY. Dr. Prince has been involved in multiple research studies in orthopedics at Columbia University, Yale University, Georgetown University, The National Institutes of Health, and Notre Dame University.
